Ex-Premier, Wife, Escape From Crete

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, March 12.—The rebel cruiser Averoff, on which former premier Eleutherios Venizelos fled from Crete today in company with his wife and rebel leaders, is heading for an Italian port, a wireless message stated today.

The government claimed it sounded the death knell of the 11-day revolt yesterday when General George Kondylis, commander of the loyalist troops, captured the towns of Seres, Drama and Kavalla, sending the insurrectionists retreating toward the Bulgarian and Turkish frontiers.

The government announced that 3,000 insurgent soldiers had been captured in the offensive. The Governor of Thrace reported the rebels' second in command, M. Panayotopoulos, had committed suicide.

Premier Panayoti Tsaldaris, reviewing the sudden collapse of the menace to his regime, said:

"Legal authority has been re-established throughout Macedonia and Thrace and I am sure the rebels will be expelled from the islands shortly."

Posters announcing Venizelos' flight and the recapture of rebel territory, including the islands of Mytilene, Chios and Samos, were jubilantly greeted by cheering crowds before the various ministries.

General Papadopoulos, the generalissimo of the Greek forces in Asia Minor, during the war with Turkey, was arrested in an Athens suburb.

Tourists from cruise ships were allowed ashore for the first time since the outbreak of the rebellion.

GOING DOWN

Edmonton and Calgary will this year receive $300,000 each from the province in lieu of the service tax the cities were formerly allowed to receive. Last year the cities were $45,000 each, and $60,000 the year before. At the same rate of reduction the grants next year will be $150,000, and thereafter the cities will get nothing.

All which is strictly in keeping with the known intention of the province to have the service tax privilege was withdrawn. The purpose was to close up that source of civic revenue and divert the proceeds into the provincial treasury through the provincial income tax. The cities protested and were granted the concession that the grabbing would be done by increments instead of all at once.

The cities are appealing for a continuance of the grants at last year's figure of $450,000, but what result, even if the appeal is granted, is not a claim that the cities do not need the money, nor on the grounds that they have received compensation in other directions.

THE DOMINION WAGE SCALE

A new Government ammunition factory is being built at Valcartier. The men employed on the construction are being paid on a scale plus board, as in the other Government relief work construction camps, in Alberta and other provinces.

Replying to criticism in parliament because of this low rate of pay on the Valcartier job, Hon. George Stirling, minister of defence said some time ago. It was plainly marked on the face "Wages to date."

Quite clearly the man in charge of the camp, the man who was in the cancelled contract, who received it, regarded the payment as "wages to date" as a birthday gift, a compassionate allowance, or a mark of esteem and kindly regard.

The money represented by the cheque was for the employee and all he got or ever will get, in addition to board, and services rendered. The payment complied with all the requirements of a wage settlement with no direct discussion across the face of the cheque by the issuing authority.

Squirm and wriggle as they may, the Government officials are not to be taken in by Government construction projects as twenty cents a day plus board. Whether the men are working in an arsenal in Quebec, landing fields in British Columbia, or roads in Alberta, that is the going rate of remuneration for the work done.

The necessity of the single unemployed men is being exploited shamelessly. They are doing work for which regular rates of wages would be paid, and for which regular wages would otherwise have to be paid. The claim of the Minister of defence that no wages at all are being paid is a lie, for they are only being given twenty cents a day out of the goodness of his heart, doing nothing to redeem the injustice of the policy of exploitation.

NO PROTECTION FOR WAGE-EARNERS

Premier Pattullo of British Columbia says the city of Vancouver will not be allowed to postpone part of its bond-interest payments until the bondholders have been paid.

The Edmonton city council refused to ask the Alberta legislature for power to suspend payments into the sinking fund, with or without the consent of the bondholders.

The legislature of Alberta two years ago enacted legislation to prevent mortgage-holders enforcing claims against mortgagors who did not pay interest or principal, without asking the mortgage-holders what they thought about it.

In direct language the case stands thus: If you are a farmer in Alberta the Government will not permit you to drive the car of your home because you cannot meet the payments on a mortgage.

But if you are a property-owner in Edmonton the city council will not ask the legislature for power to prevent you being driven out of your home because you cannot meet the payments on the bonds issued by the city against your property.

And if you are a property-owner in Vancouver, the Government will not permit you to be driven out of your home because you cannot meet the payments on a mortgage.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

A Canadian MP, Tom Reid, tells the House of Commons he would like to see a few hanging posts erected in Canada—presumably for service.

Tom Reid is Liberal M.P. for New Westminster. His ire was roused by the discovery that the Dominion government is paying $51 a ton for potatoes for the relief camps in his district and $12 a ton for carrots, while the price to the farmer is $5 for grade A potatoes and $4 a ton for grade B.

He picked some samples from the potato bin at the White Rock relief camp and showed them to the House. The inference was that they were not grade A potatoes which cost $5 a ton, but grade B potatoes which cost $3.75 but grade X.Y.Z.

White Rock is in the Fraser River delta—a famous dairy country. Though the dairy farmers can't sell their fresh milk, the camp boys cannot milk by the case. Mr. Reid would have no lack of assistants if he could get the hanging posts erected in his district.

Another grievance he ventilated is over the tobacco allowance. Each man in a relief camp is allowed 1-14 cents worth of tobacco per day. According to Mr. Reid, the government voluntarily raised the price to the tobacco company over the contract figure. This reduces the amount received each by the men. Apparently the anguish that Premier Bennett feels for the poor workmen and the poorer man can't find work, as Mr. Reid's approach is, isn't shared by the purchasing department of the relief camps.

However, the government has seen to it that the men in the relief camps have no lack of tobacco. They are given tobacco by the pound, and they are given tobacco by the pound.

Beer has built art galleries, ennobled families and floated governments into power. It is a Canadian surprise that beer is to give Canada the largest relief camp in the world, sixty foot faces—three faces in fact—making it seven times the size of "Big Ben" in London.

A new clock is to be put in place over the Dow Brew House at Montreal.

The distance on the dial between each minute will be 3.14 feet. Each minute hand will be thirty feet in length and weigh 2500 pounds. The machinery is so powerful that it will run the clock for a long time. It will be a clock to the end of the world.

Alcohol can do wonderful things. It can take stains off your overcoat, and the overcoat can take stains off your back. It can make a distance of ten miles and use the time, night or day, on each of the two clocks.

The Alberta Legislature has been debating a general endorsement from all sides can be called debt-eliminating.

The reduction of the age limit for old age pensions from 70 years to 65 years.

In the House of Commons a western member has been using 55 as the age at which men and women should be able to claim an old age pension. The U.S. Congress has received a petition signed by about 100,000 people in the Townsend old age pension scheme, which would give every man and woman willing to work at 55 a pension of $200 a month.

Even Henry Ford who blithely wrote and $400,000 loss in his car, saying "It was not lost; we just circulated it," has been in the same boat.

It would be able to claim $200 a month under the Townsend Plan if he agreed to quit work.

Hanging profiteers to the gates of relief camps might stop profiteering, but the great scandal of the relief camps is that men are forced to live unnatural lives in cantonments, suffering the indignity of indiscriminate mixing, the denial of their liberties and the degradation of similar conditions.

For work to be done, and the State with power to issue money to put every man to work at fair wages, beyond the money privilege to private profiteers.

Somewhere, somehow and somehow, the system that makes paupers at one end and profiteers at the other is a direct result of the fact that it will be broken either by a sudden flash of defiance that will sweep the nation, or it will be brought to pass by a series of evolutionary reforms. In nations with our racial inheritance, reforms usually come by evolution. The easiest and most humane first evolutionary step would be to pension off the elder men in all walks of life and let their places be taken by younger men.

No man ought to be so much a slave that he would work from dawn to dark to earn a living. Especially ought he not to be obliged to work till the grave yawns for him and he dies in his tracks. The work of life has so simplified itself, and production is so multiplied, that men and women need not toil long hours or slave for long years to sustain necessary production.

A civilization that can produce the decree "Too old to fight" must be able to provide for comfortable leisure of the superannuated, and yet the age be forty or fifty.

That a man may live without working is well recognized in the case of those who inherit capital. It is a privilege and honorable is it that men who have worked and who are willing to work, but whose further work is rendered useless by the advance of modern production, should be provided with adequate income from the cultural inheritance of the new world.

Mr. Townsend has shown that a 2 per cent sales tax on the total production of the United States will provide pensions of $200 a month to every man and woman over the age of sixty. Half of our present six per cent sales tax in Canada would pension off every man and woman over 55 at $109 a month. The suggestion is that the government should take over the relief camps and pension off every man and woman over 55 at $109 a month.

The tourist dollar has to be sought after where the tourist lives. He has to be advertised for in Scotland, France, England, Australia, prizes and in eastern Canada. This year the Quebec government has in its budget $250,000 for tourists—Vancouver, B.C.

A civilization that can produce the decree "Too old to fight" must be able to provide for comfortable leisure of the superannuated, and yet the age be forty or fifty.

That a man may live without working is well recognized in the case of those who inherit capital. It is a privilege and honorable is it that men who have worked and who are willing to work, but whose further work is rendered useless by the advance of modern production, should be provided with adequate income from the cultural inheritance of the new world.

Mr. Townsend has shown that a 2 per cent sales tax on the total production of the United States will provide pensions of $200 a month to every man and woman over the age of sixty. Half of our present six per cent sales tax in Canada would pension off every man and woman over 55 at $109 a month. The suggestion is that the government should take over the relief camps and pension off every man and woman over 55 at $109 a month.

Preventing Mastoiditis

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

Behind each ear you will notice a prominent place on your skull. This is the mastoid process and it contains a collection of hollow cells inside the bone. About 20 per cent of these cells are air cells resembling somewhat the cells found in a honey comb. The cells are lined with a mucous membrane which is continuous with the lining of the middle ear.

One of the biggest spaces in the mastoid process is called the mastoid antrum, and this opens directly into the middle ear. In this way it is possible for an inflammation of the middle ear to extend into the mastoid; in fact the inflammation of the middle ear almost always precedes mastoiditis.

The ear inflammation may begin with short sudden attacks of pain, and the accompanying inflammation of the middle ear almost always precedes mastoiditis. LOCALS RALLY, WINNING THE FIRST GAME IN HOOP Repeating rallies earned a 41-27 overtime victory for the University of Alberta senior basketball team at the expense of Lethbridge Aces in a provincial league game at Varsity gym Monday night.

FIRST TRIUMPH DURING SEASON
It was the Collegians' first and only win of the season as they played the final game on their schedule after losing seven previous encounters. By virtue of it they lifted themselves out of the loop of last place, pulling ahead of Lethbridge who have a lone point to their credit.

BATTLED HARD
Standing face to face with a win over the Aces, the Collegians fought a hard battle. The game was tied at 37-37 at the end of regulation time as the result of a three-point rally by Lethbridge in the final minutes of play. With five minutes of extra play called for the Collegians, added no little to the score, but the Aces, who were disorganized in the second half, scored two baskets that gave them the decision.

PROLIFIC SCORER
From the initial tip-off to the home team an auspicious commencement as they got underway. Varsity began to lead by a 10-0 margin. The lead was maintained at a 17-14 lead at half-time.

CROP STUDY TALK THEME AT LUNCHEON

Dr. O. S. Aamodt Guest
Speaker to Life Underwriters

That by a study of the native plants in the province which have survived for thousands of years it is possible to ascertain the chances for successful production in grain growing, was the statement made by Dr. O. S. Aamodt, University of Alberta, guest speaker at the monthly luncheon of the Edmonton Life Underwriters' association, held in the Hudsonia, Monday noon.

There had been, said Dr. Aamodt, a great deal of discussion and proposals of cures for the relief of drought, but a study of the native plants could go a long way in determining the varieties of crops which were more suitable to certain parts of the province.

STUDY ROOT SYSTEM
The climate, said Dr. Aamodt, was of great importance in the formation of soil by the glaciers, as was popularly imagined. The climate, he stated, did not change, and it was possible to make an accurate check of the precipitation by the condition of the soil.

It was being made, said Dr. Aamodt, of the root system of plants, said Dr. Aamodt, and in this way it was possible to tell what had been the approximate precipitation during the past centuries in different localities.

The different types of soil found in the province depended on the organic matter found therein, said the speaker, who also stated that the growth habits of plants was another factor in the climatic condition of the past.

People from this area, said Dr. Aamodt, had moved to the west and had made the mistake of using the soil of areas in the north but the soil in the dark brown soil area. This procedure, said the speaker, was a very poor one during the first, a fair crop the second year, but the third year the crop was very poor.

The quality of the grain now being raised in the wooded area, which was now considered drought area had formerly produced grain with a high fertility.

Declaring that refunding of municipal debts is of sufficient importance to call a special session of the Dominion government, Premier R. G. Reid has stated that he would be willing to call such special session if the Dominion government offers its full co-operation.

Premier Reid is communicating with other governments, Dominion and provincial, regarding the $11,000,000 refunding plan announced in the legislature last Friday by Hon. R. G. Reid.

Premier Reid also stated that the financial difficulties of Alberta cities are being placed before the Dominion.

A GREAT empire left two great armies were battling on the western field. George, his brother and sister, were being changed the course of man's destiny, history was being made.

But no hint of trouble or strife was allowed to penetrate the serene lives of the children of the royal household in 1898, the year had in the dark brown soil area. This procedure, said the speaker, was a very poor one during the first, a fair crop the second year, but the third year the crop was very poor.

Dismiss Two Appeal Cases

The appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta dismissed the appeal brought by David James, who pleaded guilty before Magistrate P. C. H. Pinnock in police court to a charge of driving under false pretences and was given four months in jail.

Chief Justice Horne gave four months in jail to P. G. Thomson, K.C., acting for James, that these cases were getting too numerous, and that a jail sentence would be at least a warning to the public.

The court also threw out the appeal brought by the defendant, a judgment of Mr. Justice Macleod in which he refused to grant the School of Music in Edmonton, against Ralph Pott, a former employee, from teaching pupils.

A Manitoba is just as much a foreigner as a man from the United States or Great Britain, ruled the Chief Justice, meaning that the passing of the resolution involving Mr. Aberhart to come here, in fact, he would appear before a select committee of the house, to be questioned about his plan.

This was incorrect, Mr. Aberhart had been invited to prepare and submit a plan. If necessary a select committee would be available to meet him, but the object of his visit was preparation of a plan and not cross-examination by members.

W. Brown, "broadcast" by the Taylor and Pearson Co. The leader of the sextette was Art Foster, and the soloist was Lewis Edson, both juniors.

Dissatisfied With Work of Assessment

Provincial Commission is Under Fire at Monday's Session

Withering fire was directed at the Alberta Assessment Commission in the legislature on Monday when Fred C. Meyer, independent house leader, Brantley, charged that the commission not only lacked uniformity in dealing with appeals, but also was not working with the same efficiency under oath. This latter practice, he contended, led many persons to express the opinion that the commission ought to be abolished.

Strong support for Mr. Meyer's stand was forthcoming from L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Groulx, who decried the commission in many quarters with Commissioner's decisions and especially in cases where the assessment was higher than the value of the land.

The fire was directed at the commission during discussion in committee of the white bill of the bill to amend the Assessment Commission Act, which makes provision for the appointment of a director.

FACE APPEAL FLOOD
Mr. Groulx made no bones about the fact that there was liable to be a flood of appeals from commission decisions.

Strong representations were made by Mr. Meyer in the course of his remarks that appeals would be made to district court judges, who he declared, were not overworked and had plenty of time to handle these cases.

Mr. Meyer directed an assault at that part of the new bill that gives the director the right to change the assessment on any parcel of land, made by an assessor, even after the mill rate had been fixed.

"The bill," he declared, "is liable to lead to a flood of appeals, and to the point, the bill was intended to give power to the director only when handling appeals. The director is empowered to hear and decide appeals, but not to change the assessment under the Town and Village Act, Municipal District Act and Improvement District Act."

House J. F. Lyburn, K.C., attorney-general, replying to Mr. Meyer, said that the bill was intended to amend the bill requiring both the assessor and director to take sworn evidence.

NO ABOLISHMENT
Bringing to a question asked by H. A. Montgomerie, Liberal, Brantley, Hon. H. W. Allen, minister of agriculture, said that there was no intention of doing away with the present commission. The object of the bill was to separate assessment and equalization and to relieve the commission of much detailed work.

Referring to Mr. Meyer's contention that appeals should be carried to the district court judges, Premier R. G. Reid declared that the jurisdiction had ruled against this idea, and that the jurisdiction had decided it was best to have the appeals heard by the commission, which was a body of men who were familiar with the work of the commission.

Mr. Meyer contended that it was not being sought, it certainly was not being sought, that the jurisdiction had decided it was best to have the appeals heard by the commission, which was a body of men who were familiar with the work of the commission.
